Fall in love in India... Get married in North Pattaya

SAYING "I DO" IN NORTH PATTAYA

There are many reasons to marry in North Pattaya. The weather is warm, as are the Thai welcoming smiles. In and not far from North Pattaya there is every kind of destination you could wish for, from city to ocean and mountains.

The hotels are luxurious and the prices represent value for money. There is the natural warmth and hospitality of the Thai people, a genuine wish to ensure you have a wonderful time in North Pattaya. For large family gatherings, with members travelling in from different parts of the world, North Pattaya is easily accessible via Bangkok as a regional air hub. North Pattaya's hotels, venues and attractions are also well experienced in handling large groups of overseas visitors, both in accommodation and on-the-ground logistics, and this expertise ensures that even the most complex demands are met.

India and Thailand have a close relationship that goes back centuries, and there is a large, distinctive and thriving Indian community in Thailand. A natural kinship exists, and growing trade and cultural links are forging an even closer bond between the two nations. Most importantly, both our countries place the highest importance on family. This is why it is natural that Indian weddings in Thailand are special occasions that bring immense joy to the two families, guests and above all, of course, the happy couple starting their new life together.

There is a can-do spirit in Thailand. Backed with professional wedding planners at your selected hotel in North Pattaya, your great day is guaranteed to be a dream come true for everyone.
